The Post-Colonial Academic Environment

B. Prasad’s study was conceived during a period when India was navigating the complexities of post-colonial identity, independence, and cultural assertion. His work aimed to democratize literary study, making it accessible to Indian students and scholars, and fostering a sense of pride in their own literary heritage while engaging critically with Western texts.

Inspiration from Contemporary Literary Movements

During the mid-20th century, literary studies were influenced by various movements, including New Criticism, Structuralism, and eventually Post-Structuralism. While Prasad’s work predates some of these movements’ dominance, it reflects an openness to interpretative diversity.
